FROM DAVID DAOUD The first seven weeks of 2026 have been anything but quiet. A $633 million ITAD revenue quarter at Iron Mountain. A ransomware gang claiming they breached a key industry player. Two major M&A deals closing before the calendar even found its footing. A European expansion wave that may help redraw the competitive map. And a rare earth recovery partnership that puts ITAD squarely inside the U.S. national security conversation. This edition covers the full January 1 - February 21, 2026 period - every material development we tracked across the 60-plus companies on our watch list, organized by the themes that matter most to your business.
