

How Rising Fuel and Memory Prices Are Impacting ITAD's Margins

Published: 10 March 2026 | Author: David Daoud | Principal Analyst

The war in Iran is affecting oil and energy markets, driving up prices and increasing volatility in global freight and logistics. For the companies operating in the electronics and IT disposition and end-of-life, the result is a noticeable change in cost pressures and risk considerations in a sector that depends heavily on transportation, power, and cross-border material flows.
